Dear Larmonz,

Thank you for participating in this year's Lead & Live Youth Conference. So that you will have an idea of the flow for each day, I have enclosed an agenda. It will also show you when you are scheduled to present. If you plan to arrive at Paris Landing State Park on Friday, please proceed to our registration desk in the main lobby of the Paris Landing Inn. If you arrive Saturday, go to the reception desk in the main lobby and ask them to contact our registration organizer, CJ Powers. You will then receive a packet containing further information regarding the conference and, for those who will be staying overnight, a room assignment and key. You will also be given evaluations for your session. On Saturday, all students and staff will wear the conference sweatshirt we will be providing for a group photo. You are welcome to join us.

If you have any questions prior to the event, please feel free to contact me. During the event, there will be a number of GHSO staff available to answer address questions, concerns, or comments. We are confident that this conference will again be a huge success. Your contribution will ensure that this happens. We believe that this generation will be the one to eliminate the tragedy of alcohol-related traffic crashes. With your help we can make this a memorable weekend while presenting our students with lessons that will save lives.

Sincerely,

Mia Vickers
Deputy Director, GHSO
